

*Rose Quartz is a form of silicon dioxide with a pink to rose red color caused by iron and titanium 'impurities.'
If needles of Rutile (an ore of titanium) are present then a star effect, or asterism, is sometimes seen as light is viewed through the Rose Quartz.
This differs from the asterisms in most other gemstones, such as Ruby and Sapphire, that appear when light shines on the gems.*

Solarwind Rose Quartz

November 13, 2003

Manifestation..... Alchemy

The day this essence was made was cold and blustery.
I was asked to go outside around 9:00 a.m. and “look up.”
What I saw was sunshine and clouds moving at fantastic rates..... joining, separating and bursting..... as if the wind at those altitudes was moving at high speeds in many different directions at once.
It was truly awesome
and magnificent to watch this alchemy of the Heavens work to create its new magic formula for us here.

The Solarwind Rose Quartz essence is indeed Angelic Alchemy and a Magic that we have here-to-fore not been able to access here on Earth.
This is a new essence and a gift for Manifestation.
It helps us to bring the visions of the soul and to ground them into the Physical,
where they may be realized in the here and now.

The Rose Quartz in this essence is able to balance the Heart so that it can become a focal point for this more-dreamy Energy of the Spirit, then it relies on its Rock-Kingdom properties to stabilize and manifest these Dreams on this Plane.

The crystalline properties of the snow flakes that danced on this essence during its making and the Fairies associated with a first snow remind us of the Joy and Fun of Flirtation and help us to pick up the Dance with Glee.
This is a powerful essence that restores the Heart to commitment and to those Visions and Life Missions that once filled it with so much Light and Energy.

