

The mighty Jupiter (visible without magnification in the upper right-hand corner), drawing close to Earth, is companion to the Full Moon in a partially clouded night sky.

Jupiter - Full Moon

March 6, 2004

encourages trust & courage to embark on important projects & follow one's heart-dreams

Being this close to Jupiter on a Full Moon is indeed an experience of fullness.

The round Moon pushed by the expansive Jupiter seems somehow larger and more potent.

The Jupiter - Full Moon essence helps to open the radiant capacities of the heart to transcend the gates of doubt and limiting self-judgment in order that one may truly receive Divine thought and live heart-felt, fluent vision.

This essence is helpful to those whose hearts have been closed down or hardened by negative experience.

It also aids those sensitives who are reticent to fully enter the ebb and flow of the passion required to embody one's heart-dreams for fear of the perceived energetic trauma sensitive individuals often feel around experiences of expansion and exposure.

Aspiration, ambition and life purpose are supported by the balanced male-female expression of the Jupiter - Full Moon essence.

The gentle, supportive pressure of Jupiter and the fluid, reflectivity of Moonglow work to create the subtle body of support needed to aid one in transcending physical world fears and phobias, enabling a power to give birth to projects of the heart as well as the energy needed to sustain and nurture one's heart child through all stages of development and actualization in the world.

This is an excellent remedy to help during the birthing process to shift the mother from the pain and fear of the transition stage to the active pushing and birthing stage required to help the little one enter the Earth plane.

This essence also aids during the transition stage of death, helping the soul to access the trust and courage required to release the physical and birth into the Peace of one's eternal light body.

As in all birthing processes, one must learn to anchor bravery and faith into the physical.

The Jupiter Full Moon essence acts as an energetic foundation, forming the confident super-structure of supportive flowing energy that floods the heart chakra with radiant, healing light.

Jupiter - Full Moon essence teaches capacity and the ability to handle many and various tasks, emotions, and directions with fluid grace and non-reactivity.

Personal Note: My father died this afternoon at 80 from a heart attack. It does not surprise me that he chose this day as he was such a Jupiter man, so expansive in his love and visions. Eleven years ago on the same date (March 6th) my brother with the same name as my father died.
